Enter the magical, mystical world of cat butts: 11 lovable cat illustrations, each with its own fun scratch and sniff scent, assembled into a high-quality, professionally printed 6" x 6" board book and individually shrink-wrapped for flavor and freshness. What a time to be alive! (No, they don't smell like poop. That would be gross.)

Initial Response

Cat Butt Scratch and Sniff's production was entirely crowdfunded on Kickstarter, receiving over $15,000 by cat enthusiasts across the globe, proving that Germany, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Austria, Sweden, the UK, and America all speak the universal language of meow.

Meet the Authors

Author/illustrator Doug Cholewa was likely the only 14-year-old boy to have a subscription to Cat Fancy magazine in 1985. He currently lives in the picturesque New England-style village of Granville, Ohio with his wife, daughter, and several four-legged buddies.

Illustrator/Author Scott Havice loves his furry friends, too, but isn't quite as obsessed with cat-lore as his buddy Doug. He also loves weird and stupid humor, especially when it's well-designed and clearly over-produced. He is currently enjoying the lack of winter in Phoenix AZ with his awesome family.

This book is amazing! Had so much fun sniffing all the cat butts and figuring out each scent. There is no way you'll walk away from this book not smiling and a little hungry.
